

We still love it here!

Our time here is flying by and remains exciting!

Our time in Sri Lanka has been intense and enriching, from support to direct on-site help, and the excitement remains about what progress we'll make next...

We just wanted to let you know how we're doing here. We've settled in really well and, honestly, we couldn't be more grateful for how everything has turned out.

The best part is that the children absolutely love it here! They've settled in super fast, are completely happy, and it seems like everything just fits for them. It is a real pleasure to see them so content in their new environment.

Here you can see how happy they are :)

Here are a few more highlights from our recent involvements in ministry

The biggest and most touching event was Natalia's conversion. It was an unforgettable day for all of us and a truly wonderful start to a new chapter in her life. She came to find Buddha as my neighbor and stayed to be a sister to us. Natalia is from Brno, only an hour's drive from Vienna. She would like to stay in Sri Lanka and is now praying for open doors and the possibility of a longer visa

Another focus was the organization seminar impressive to see how open and engaged the participants were in exploring their personal "boundaries" developing tools for more self-determination.

Another special highlight

An unforgettable highlight: a surprise visit to Colombo!

Besides all the wonderful experiences, there was one very special highlight recently that left us speechless!

It was like something out of a movie! Imagine this: during our stay at a hotel in Colombo, we randomly ran into our best friends from Austria!

They wanted to surprise us with their visit to Kandy, but then they were surprised themselves because we checked in at the same time and place.

Otherwise, we probably wouldn't have met since we were in Colombo and not in Kandy (3 hours away).

It was an incredibly emotional and joyful moment to suddenly see them here, so far away from Austria.

This unexpected encounter made our time even more unforgettable and showed us once again how valuable friendships are.

You don't experience a surprise like that everyday - a real highlight that we will never forget!

Thank you so much for everything you do for us! We are very grateful!!!
